

Staying #SagerStrong

Craig Sager was a Hall of Fame sports reporter, known for his colorful suits and fun spirit reporting for Turner Sports for 34 years, on the NBA, Olympic games and Atlanta Braves post season. He lost his battle with leukemia in 2016. Craig's passion for all sports and his lifelong love of golf, is the inspiration for this event.

Our vision at the SagerStrong Foundation is to support blood cancer research to one day help find a cure for those battling blood cancer. Thank you for helping us to make Craig's vision a reality through your support of this year's Living Out Loud Golf Tournament!
